Convict Flees In Stolen Plane

Ex-Wife's Family Threatened by Thug

ENID, Okla. (AP)—A convicted rapist disappeared in an airplane Friday after escaping from a Texas air base and terrorizing his former wife's family.

Milton J. Martin, 27, described as dangerous by authorities at Bergstrom Air Force Base, was the object of a man hunt to day in Oklahoma and surrounding states. Bergstrom officials said he had vowed "not to be taken alive."

Last June Martin was convicted of rape, allegedly holding his wife while another man assaulted her. He was sentenced to 25 years in prison and was being held at Bergstrom pending review of the sentence.

He escaped from the stockade Thursday, authorities said, stole an airplane at nearby Austin, Tex., and made his way to Enid. Sheriff Mason Hart said Martin was divorced by his wife last month and had threatened to kill her. The sheriff placed her in hiding after hearing of the escape.

MR. AND MRS. Erle B. Fest, parents of Martin's wife, hearing of the escape, flew home from a California vacation with their 13-year-old son, Gary. Hart said the Fests found Martin hiding in a closet in their house.

Martin pulled a knife and bound the three Fests, the sheriff said, and threatened their lives. After several hours he left.

Late Friday afternoon, Sheriff Hart said, a blue and white plane landed at an airport near here. A man hurried out from behind a hangar and climbed into it, and it took off. Hart said the man was believed to be Martin. Police said the plane stolen at Austin also was blue and white. They said they had no idea who was the pilot when it landed here.

Youngster, 5, Reported Fair After Gunshot

Raymond Giffin, 5, 159 York St., accidentally wounded in the leg by a shotgun blast yesterday at noon, was reported in fair condition today at Children's Hospital, Columbus.

Hospital officials said the youth rested last night as well as could be expected.

Young Giffin was shot in the right thigh while he and an 8-year-old playmate were playing with a 410 gauge shotgun in the home of Bonnie Keaton, Hayward Ave.

The youngster was rushed to Berger Hospital and later transferred to the Columbus hospital.

Bank Robber Enters New Plea of Guilty

CLEVELAND (AP)—Elmer Chronister, 38, pleaded guilty to holding up the Lucas State Bank when arraigned before U. S. Judge James C. Connell Friday.

Chronister, from Mansfield, admitted robbing the bank of $3,000 last June 25. He told government agents that he picked up a man he had never seen before who helped him in the Richland County holdup. The man disappeared shortly after the robbery with half the loot, Chronister said.

Sentence was deferred pending a probation report.

Racketeer Dio To Appear Again Before Labor Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor racketeer Johnny Dio is coming out of jail long enough to face questioning by senators on charges that he had a big hand in victimizing many New York workers.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee said Dio will be placed on the witness stand Thursday or Friday.

McClellan said Dio can invoke the Fifth Amendment if he chooses, but that in any event "the public can judge" the racketeer on the witness stand.

The committee is exploring charges that Dio and Teamsters Union boss James R. Hoffa formed a corrupt alliance that ultimately could subject more than a million New York workers to "crooked" labor contracts and

Illinois Medic Expects Flu Strike in Fall

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—An epidemic of Asiatic flu is likely in this country this fall and winter, according to the Illinois state health department.

Dr. Roland R. Cross, state health director, said Friday sporadic outbreaks of the ailment resemble a pattern which preceded the devastating 1918 epidemic of Spanish influenza.

"It appears likely," Dr. Cross said, "that Asiatic influenza now appearing sporadically throughout the country in a mild form will become generally epidemic later this year and possibly in a much more severe form than now prevails."

He said vaccine believed effective in preventing the disease is in production.

"The disease is likely to spread rapidly with the advent of cold weather," Dr. Cross added. "It is apt to strike many parts of the state and nation almost simultaneously with only a few weeks lapse at most between peak prevalence on the eastern and western seaboard."

Marilyn Monroe Assured of Babies

NEW YORK (AP)—Marilyn Monroe, who lost her baby by miscarriage, has been assured that she still can have children.

Dr. Hilliard Dubrow, one of two physicians who performed an emergency operation on the 31-year-old movie queen, said:

"She certainly can have more children, and she's very anxious to have more children."

The latter statement was echoed by the actress' playwright husband, Arthur Miller, who said: "She wants as many as she can get. I feel the same way."

3 Truck Thieves Get Sentences

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three members of a gang who stole trucks in nearby states and drove them to Canton where they were dismantled were sentenced to a federal penitentiary Friday by U. S. District Judge James C. Connell.

Pleading guilty to charges of transporting stolen goods across a state line were Courtland E. Johnston and Lloyd Lumbatis, both of Canton, and Bruce Savage of Delroy. Johnston was sentenced to two years in prison while Lumbatis and Savage were each given a year.

Death Ends Quarrel

CLEVELAND (AP)—A neighborhood quarrel resulted in the death early today of George Chapman, 36, police reported. A neighbor, who police said shot Chapman, is being held.

"economic slavery," chaining them to less than decent wages.

That was the testimony Friday of John McNiff, executive secretary of the Assn. of Catholic Trade Unionists. McNiff spoke of "collusion between crooked management and crooked unionism."

McClellan HAS told the committee Dio and his New York underworld henchmen have "fattened their pockets" by extorting from employers and dipping deeply into the funds of union members for whom they negotiated union contracts that allegedly provided few, if any benefits.

McClellan says the evidence will show that Hoffa helped Dio to get charters for Teamster locals and that through this alleged alliance, Hoffa sought a "stranglehold" on the Eastern Seaboard.

As the committee was listening to charges of labor exploitation, a New York judge ordered Dio and three other convicted labor racketeers paroled just long enough to testify in the hearings.

Paroles also went to Samuel Goldstein, president of Teamsters Local 239 and Max Chester, former financial secretary of Local 405 of the Retail Clerks Union. Both were convicted with Dio of a $30,000 shakedown conspiracy against two New York electroplating firms. The three are being held pending sentence.

Dio also is under indictment in the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

Cuban Rebels Stiffen in Resistance

HAVANA (AP)—Resistance to President Fulencio Batista's regime stiffened in eastern Cuba today as antigovernment strikes and rebel flareups threatened to spread throughout the area.

Reports said insurgent forces of Fidel Castro had come down from their mountain hideouts and engaged elements of Batista's army. A military headquarters spokesman said army units encountered a rebel band near Uveroos on the south coast of Oriente Province Friday, killing 10 insurgents and capturing several others.

Censorship was in effect on local and incoming foreign newspapers and radio stations and on outgoing news dispatches and details were limited. Local newspapers refrained from giving any news about the political situation.

In the pro-rebel center of Santiago de Cuba, a group of armed men forced attendants at a service station to turn on their gasoline pumps Friday night, then set the place on fire and fled.

In another incident to Santiago, a woman bus driver was killed by a bomb hurled at her as she was about to board a bus for duty.

Sketchy reports from the trouble spots indicated the strike which has gripped Santiago may spread to Manzanillo, Bayamo and Palma Soriano de Holguin in Oriente Province and to Camaguey Province west of Oriente.

Ohio's Fort Hayes Granted Command

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fort Hayes at Columbus, Ohio, and Indian town Gap, Pa., have been made reserve commands over Army reserve units in seven states and the District of Columbia.

The action, the Army said Friday, consolidated eight military districts into just two commands, each of which will be headed by a major general. His responsibility will cover the training, administration and support of reserve units within his area.

The 20th Corps Headquarters at Fort Hayes will handle reserve activities in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. Its commander will be Maj. Gen. Martin J. Morin, chief of the Ohio Military District.

Dixiecrats Plan Strategy Meet On Rights Bill

How Much More Resistance Is To Be Given in Senate?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) called a meeting of senators from nine Southern states today to decide how much more resistance to offer to the administration's battered civil rights bill.

The Senate finished its rewriting of the House-passed measure late Friday, but final arguments on its passage were put over until next week.

"This bill is not going to work any hardship on the people of Georgia," Russell said in advance of the closed meeting in his office. But he said he was going to vote against it.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he hoped for a rollcall vote Wednesday on final passage. He expressed hope that it would pass by "an overwhelming majority."

But the ultimate fate of the bill was clouded in uncertainty because the House either must accept the Senate changes or a compromise will have to be worked that can run the gamut of both branches.

IN ADDITION, President Eisenhower's blast at the bill, as amended by the Senate, prompted speculation about a possible veto if the measure should reach him with a jury trial provision in it.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said he regards the bill as "better than nothing at all." He said he would vote for it, but he expressed hope that it would be "strengthened" by Senate-House conference.

In contrast, Johnson said he believed the bill had been strengthened by the Senate and "made more acceptable" to the great majority of the nation and the Congress. He called it "a meaningful civil rights bill."

The Senate stripped out of the House measure authority for the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions to enforce civil rights generally, limiting this power to the protection of voting rights.

And, in an even more stunning blow to the administration early Friday, the Senate adopted, 51-42, an amendment providing for jury trials of any criminal contempt charges growing out of injunctions obtained by the government in voting rights cases and many other cases.

Eisenhower said Friday that interposing "a jury trial between a federal judge and his legal orders would weaken our whole judicial system."

He also said that "in this case it will also make largely ineffective the basic purpose of the bill—that of protecting promptly and effectively every American in his right to vote."

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.), a leading supporter of the administration bill, said he agreed with Eisenhower and hoped the jury trial amendment could be erased in Senate-House conference.

Ag, Defense Funds For Year Assured

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense and Agriculture Department's, which had been without authority to spend any money since Wednesday, had funds again today.

President Eisenhower signed bills Friday to operate the two departments for the 12 months which began July 1. Both had been operating on temporary spending authority from July 1 to July 31 because of their regular appropriations bills were stalled by civil rights debate in the Senate.

The Defense Department got $3,759,850,000. The Agriculture Department and the Farm Credit Administration were given $3,666,543,757.

Stab Wounds Fatal

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Annette Ferguson, 30, died Friday night at Lakeside Hospital from stab wounds received Wednesday. She told police that her boy friend stabbed her in an argument. Police are searching for the 38-year-old man.

New String Is Attached To $500 Million Soil Bank

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is offering farmers $500 million to reduce acreages of surplus cotton, wheat, corn, rice and tobacco next year under the soil bank retirement plan. But there's a new string attached.

To get this money, farmers will have to cut their total harvested acreage below the average of the last two years. There was no such requirement for the program this year under which $614 million in payments were committed.

This new restriction, announced by the Agriculture Department Friday, is designed to prevent the shifting of cropland from surplus crops to other crops. The department said such a practice would soon create new surpluses and add to the total oversupply of farm commodities.

The $500 million which Congress authorized for the soil bank in the Agriculture Department appropriation bill passed Thursday will be apportioned among the five surplus crops. Wheat's portion, the only one announced at this time, will be $178 million compared with $231 million obligated under this year's program.

THE DEPARTMENT said wheat

Juvenile Crime Flaring Up In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—One youth was killed and another was injured Friday night in a flareup of juvenile crime in the city.

The latest killing, in the Bronx, came in the midst of a special weekend police drive against juvenile delinquency as additional detective squads patrolled the boroughs.

A few hours after the slaying, police picked up two youths for questioning.

Fatally attacked in the Bronx was a youth tentatively identified as George Marshall, 18, Negro. The boy had been stabbed in the neck several times.

His companion, Richard Vaughan, 17, Negro, escaped serious injury. He told police he and his friend were assaulted by a group of Negro youths and that the attack was unprovoked.

Tuesday night a 15-year-old white boy was stabbed to death in Washington Heights and a second white boy was seriously hurt in the same gang episode.

Early Thursday in Brooklyn a 16-year-old Negro youth was critically injured in another teen-age gang stabbing.

Cincinnati Soap King Tipped as New Defense Chief

CINCINNATI (AP)—Neil H. McElroy, president of Procter & Gamble Co., is slated to confer with presidential aides next Monday on a proposal he take over as secretary of defense.

The Cincinnati Enquirer reported President Eisenhower has offered the post to McElroy.

The newspaper quoted its Washington bureau as saying McElroy's acceptance depends on certain arrangements between him and the administration. The arrangements were not specified.

The soap firm president declined comment Friday night, saying "there is nothing settled."

Administration sources said they knew nothing of McElroy's appointment, or of any plans for the present secretary, Charles E. Wilson, to resign.

Prodigy, 14, Enters National Chess Meet

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 14-year-old prodigy and a 57-year-old world champion are among the entries in the 58th National Open Chess tournament here Monday.

Robert Fischer of New York, who started to play chess when he was 11 years old and in three years became a top-flight player, and Dr. Max Euwe of New York, a former world champion, are among the 250 players expected.

farmers would earn an average of $20.88 a bushel on retired wheat land compared with $20.04 this year. Rates for other crops will be announced later. The wheat program was set up at this time because much of this grain crop will be seeded in the fall. The others will be planted next spring.

Congress has set a limit of $3,000 on soil bank payments to any one producer next year. Last year there was no such limitation. This payment ceiling will be the only limit on the number of acres a farmer may agree to retire next year.

To limit shifting of land from one set of crops on another, the department will set up a soil

Police Doubt Bookie Story By Embezzler

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Louis Madigan said she never heard of an "if-come" bet, and that makes police doubt her story that she lost $96,000 she embezzled to a horse bookie.

So, while the 46-year-old bookkeeper is arraigned today in Municipal Court on charges of embezzling money from the law firm where she was employed, detectives are checking banks and other places where she might have deposited some of the $96,000.

"I asked her whether she ever bet 'if comes,'" said Detective Capt. James K. Dodge. "She didn't know what I was talking about. I'd think anyone who played the horses as much as she says she did would know that term."

An "if-come" bet works like this: You bet say $2 on a horse and if he comes in, you bet $2 on another horse. It's not a parlay. In a parlay, you bet say 2 on a horse and if he comes in you bet all you won on another horse.

Besides her ignorance of "if-come," police say Mrs. Madigan's story has some other holes in it:

1. She said she never went to local race tracks. Police say most "avid fans do."

2. Nobody in the downtown building lobby, where Mrs. Madigan said she met a bookie named "Bill" every day at 11 a. m., remembered ever seeing her there.

3. She refused to take a lie detector test, or tour the downtown area with police in an attempt to spot the bookie.

Young Heine just four days ago landed at San Francisco after a short tour of duty in the South Pacific.

Ohio's Federal Highway Fund Share Is Pared

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio's reduced federal aid for roads won't affect the state's highway program, state officials say.

The federal government Friday earmarked $119,338,559 in federal funds to be spent in the 12 months starting in mid-1958. Ohio had expected $120,800,000.

"Expected federal revenues, plus those the state has, will be sufficient to finance the present biennium program," said C. H. Makeever, head of the Ohio Department of Highway's Division of Planning and Programming.

Official Says Red Reaction Good as Hoped

Sky-Ground Look-See Deal Labeled Rather Unfair by Soviet Aide

LONDON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles' outline of a two-part Western plan for air and ground arms inspection of the Soviet Union and most of North America and Europe has drawn a cautious first reaction from the Russians.

Dulles flew back to Washington to report to President Eisenhower after terming the Soviet reaction "not as bad as had been feared and about as good as had been hoped."

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin told the U. N. disarmament subcommittee the plan presented Friday by Dulles would receive careful study. But he suggested that it was unfair to Russia and favored the West.

Under the Western proposals, Russia and the West would exchange permission for inspectors to search on the ground and by air for warlike moves.

The first proposed area would take in all the Soviet Union, North America above the Rio Grande and Europe except for a fringe of Ireland and southern parts of Spain and Portugal, Italy, Albania, Greece and Turkey.

UNDER AN alternate plan, Russia could agree to inspection of the Arctic area plus two pie-shaped segments with points at the North Pole. This would include most of Europe from Ireland to the Urals on one side and Alaska to Russia's Kamchatka peninsula on the other.

Several smaller variations could be accepted, Dulles said, all subject to approval of the Western nations involved.

Zorin complained that the proposals did not allow for Soviet inspection of Western bases in Japan, North Africa, the Middle East and elsewhere. Another Soviet spokesman later said the main threat to Russian security comes from bases excluded from the plan.

Fiscal Fuddle Is Created as Prisoner Flees

AKRON (AP)—Robert Alexander, whereabouts unknown, probably would be interested in knowing that his sudden departure created a fiscal fuddle.

The 38-year-old Alexander, accused of breaking and entering, developed a toothache while being held in the county jail last month.

As a guest of the county, he was entitled to free dental services so he was taken to the office of Dr. S. W. Day.

After the anesthetic had been injected, and before the dentist could wield his pliers, Alexander dived through a second story window, bounced off a guy wire and landed running.

The dentist hasn't bothered to submit a bill, but has sounded out the county on what his prospects might be. As outlined by Assistant Prosecutor Harold F. White, the situation is that the county cannot disburse any funds for uncompleted dental services, or for $25 worth of repairs to the guy wire.

However, Dr. Day has one slight chance. If Alexander comes into the clutches of the law again, the dentist will have an opportunity to submit a bill to the patient. And extract the fund if he can.

Miss Turner jumped on the hood in an effort to prevent Sally from taking the car and got a ride for her troubles.

Police were unable to catch the car, but Miss Turner said she managed to jump off later, suffering a stubbed toe.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A nightmare traffic jam caught Harold Buddy Locate, 22, with his car on a railroad track Friday and a train coming.

Police said Locate could neither move his car forward nor backward because of the bumper-to-bumper congestion at the crossing of the Santa Fe tracks.

The passenger train's diesel locomotive spun the car and hurled it into a ditch bordering the tracks. Locate was taken to a hospital with a possible skull fracture, a broken arm and cuts.

British Troops Dispatched Into Revolt-Torn Oman Area

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — British ground troops and armored cars today moved by sea and air into revolt-hit Muscat and Oman to aid the pro-British sultan.

Reports from London said a detachment of Scottish Highland troops already had entered the sultan's restive Arabian Peninsula domain. A foreign office spokesman said the troops were being used "in support of the sultan's forces."

Air Vice Marshal L. F. Sinclair, commander of British forces in the Persian Gulf, disclosed in this Persian Gulf, disclosed in this number of British armor and foot troops would support the sultan's forces in their attempt to regain rebel-held territory.

Sinclair said the first objective of the British will be Nizwa, believed to be the headquarters of the Imam of Oman, rebel leader, and a tough, trained group of insurgents armed with modern automatic weapons.

Oldest Ohio Granger Dies at Age of 103

BRYAN (AP) — Services will be held Sunday for Mrs. Emma Hinkle of nearby West Unity, believed to be the oldest Grange member in Ohio. She died Friday at the age of 103.

Mrs. Hinkle joined the Grange in 1877 and remained active in it until becoming ill six days ago.

THE IMAM, who was exiled as religious leader in Oman, is trying to set up an independent sultanate.

Sinclair said the RAF will continue to support the sultan's troops. RAF planes have been pounding rebel targets for two weeks since he asked for British help in crushing the revolt.

Sinclair said British troops would not enter villages, but would limit themselves to giving support with heavy weapons, including machine guns and mortars.

U.S. Polio Total To Be Half 1956's

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Public Health Service spokesman says it now appears the total number of polio cases this year may be less than half the 15,400 reported in 1956. He called the continued low number of paralytic cases at this season "particularly favorable."

The service's weekly compilation of polio cases reported by the states showed 51 paralytic cases for the week ended July 27 and 50 for the previous week. This compared with 287 and 277 in the respective 1956 weeks. There were 265 cases of all types reported last week. In the corresponding 1956 week, there were 634.

Gospel Center To Hear Dr. Gillam Give Report

Dr. William Gillam, General Deputational Director of The Oriental Missionary Society will speak at Gospel Center, on Sunday at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. He and his family have returned to the States from Colombia, South America with thrilling reports of advance and revival, in the face of religious persecution.

A very able speaker, Dr. Gillam presents a challenging message out of thirteen fruitful years of service in Colombia. His ministry has not been limited, however, to that country.

In these regions fifty-seven new church congregations have been established—the fruit of intense river launch evangelism.

Mr. Gillam will also report on current developments in the Ecuador and Brazil fields of the O.M.S. The public is invited to hear this young missionary executive and leader.

FRONT and CENTER!

Front and center in this little community stands the Church.

Your church may not be so centrally located but all that it stands for is front and center in your community life:

The worship of the God who made us and all that exists ...

The teaching of love and unselfishness as the highest good for all men ...

The preaching of the worth and dignity of each individual ...

The motivation for service in the community ...

The battle against evil in high places and low ...

Your community needs the Church and all that it stands for—front and center! And the Church needs you!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Low Cost' Housing Extinct

In one of his well publicized remarks the late Franklin D. Roosevelt spoke feelingly of the third of the population he said was "ill-housed" and otherwise shabbily treated in the depression era.

He never explained how he knew that exactly 33 1-3 per cent of the people didn't have proper homes. He didn't even say where he drew the line between proper housing and sub-standard housing. Indoor toilets and running water once made the difference.

But nowadays the yardstick is price, and some rather fantastic ideas are current as the housing industry calls on the government to do something about sagging sales of homes.

It now appears that the administration will not be in a great hurry to implement the reduced down payments permissible under the housing law just enacted by Congress. As long as prices for labor and materials are still rising the administration reasonably feels that lower down payments on government-backed home loans would be inflationary.

The anticipated howls are now forthcoming from the housing industry. Held forth is the prospect of a dire shortage of "low cost" housing by the first of the year. What's especially interesting about this purported imminent shortage is the type of housing that's now considered "low cost."

The "low cost" homes the builders say will not be available next year range in price from $10,000 to $20,000. The shortage is envisioned unless the government reduces FHA down payments to the authorized all-time low figure and thereby makes it possible for more families to get their feet in the doors of these "low cost" $20,000 homes.

If a $20,000 house is now in the "low cost" category the people and even the politicians will have to revise their thinking about what constitutes privilege. There must be a lot of underprivileged people around if "low cost" homes run up to $20,000 in price and anything under $10,000 is unmentionable.

By the new definition millions of families are living in sub-standard quarters. Perhaps if Franklin D. Roosevelt were still alive he would now say that two-thirds of the people were "ill-housed."

What isn't clear about the supposedly imminent shortage of "low cost" housing is how it possibly could develop when so few families have enough income to afford even a measly $20,000 house. The National Housing Conference figures it would require more than $190 a month to pay mortgage principal and interest, taxes, insurance and utility bills on a $20,000 house.

Considering other rising family expenses that would call for an annual income of more than $11,000. Fewer than 5 per cent of the families in the country have that much income.

Tourism Greater Than Ever

Roads are clogged with tourists, and from seashores, lakes, rivers and mountains the news is that the annual summer trek of Americans seeking a brief respite from workaday cares and the heat is setting new records.

When August approaches, the summer vacation season reaches a peak along with the temperature, and cash registers of hotels, motels, service stations and other enterprises catering to tourists produce a merry sound.

Reports from Yellowstone, long regarded as the bellwether of the national parks, are that records set in recent years are again being broken as hundreds of thousands of Americans converge on that popular oasis. Millions of dollars have been invested in new facilities, which are still inadequate to accommodate the crowds during its brief season.

Noted also this summer is an upsurge in vacationers going to Florida, southern California and other areas which in the past were regarded as winter vacation spots. Southern spas are proving increasingly attractive to summer tourists, and this is a trend that may grow enormously as misconceptions of summer weather at many points are discarded.

Which is to say that tourists are running less to former form than ever, and the whole country is their oyster.

No National Political Issues

By George Sokolsky

The inner sickness of the Republican Party is identical with the inner sickness of the Democratic Party, namely, that they have each ceased to be distinct and separate political organizations except on the local level. Whereas they may battle fiercely over the election of a mayor of a town or the governor of a state, there is no heart for a real fight over great international or national issues.

The dissipation of identity is not so much the achievement of President Eisenhower, who, it may be recalled, was told that he would be nominated by both parties by the businessmen who went to Paris to implore him to be a candidate. It is the inevitable result of Stalin's maneuvers against the United States in the international field. No one can make a partisan issue of the atom bomb or the hydrogen bomb or the destruction of the British Empire by slow attrition. There is another factor in all this, namely, the newness and unbelief of issues and names. For instance, Egypt is an old country but it had never become a factor in American politics until Nasser made Egypt a Russian satellite and put in peril the economics of the world. This is a tough one for politicians to debate because few of them have any preparation for it.

Yet the fact is that Egypt and the Suez Canal form a bridge among the three continents, Europe, Asia and Africa; Egypt dominates geographically the crescent of fertility on the edge of the Arabian Desert and it influences the greenland to the north of the Sahara Desert. It could, if only geography mattered, be the controlling state of the Mediterranean. That it never has played this role is again economics; it has usually been conquered and held by aliens from somewhere in Asia or Europe.

These geophysical matters have become even more complicated by such physical developments as the airplane and the world search for fuels and the struggle between socialist and capitalist economies.

In a word, the simple ways of life that mankind has known for centuries, first detonated by the discovery of Chinese gunpowder and then by the British discovery of the use of steam — these simple ways are now going through a universal revolution which takes on different manifestations in different countries.

For instance, Saudi Arabia, a heretofore poor country and never very significant even in the rise of Arabic culture, is now among the richest nations on earth because of its enormous accumulation of oil. Oil has become an item for international consideration and even for war. How can a Republican Party or a Democratic Party build a campaign platform on the issue of oil in Kuwait or oil in Iran and what should be American policy thereon?

And then there is the subject of uranium and thorium and all sorts of new minerals, some of which are found in the oddest and most unexpected places, and all of which alter international relations. For instance, Soviet Russia must take a dim view of Hungarian independence, not because the Hungarians will be able, in modern times, to be independent but because of Hungary's mineral content which Russia not only covets but means to possess.

It is the fact that Soviet Russia exists as a warlike and imperialist power that both the Republican Party and the Democratic Party have lost control of any issues concerning war and peace, disarmament, big navy or big air force or any such matters. These have now moved out of politics and into the realm of technology.

This is certain: no country wants war but at least Soviet Russia and the United States must be prepared for war. But even this is complicated by the evidence that thermonuclear bombs are easy to make and are comparatively cheap and that effective political damage can be done by one bomb as by 100 bombs. That is, effective political damage can be done by hurling one bomb at New York or one bomb at Moscow. Those cities would be literally fried. Therefore, the small, the weak and backward nations, held by gutter-trained dictators, can do as much damage as the great ones.

It is, for this reason, that when the political parties get away from local issues, they avoid finding a case to state.

The most optimistic man in the world, opines Milt, the sterling printer, is the newly appointed football coach who buys a house that's just off the college campus.

The hot dog was invented in 1898 — Factographs. Good grief — how did the bleacherites before that date keep from starving?

The saddest thing about summer colds, groans Zadok Dumkept, is that people who don't have 'em seem to think they're lunny.

Elephants sometimes walk in their sleep, according to an item in a newly-published nature book. Wonder if this only happens when they're having nightmares about pink people!

Small Business Agency Is Revived by Senate

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

NEW YORK IDYLL: The scene: A rowboat on Central Park lake, with a full moon shining overhead. The characters: An eager young sailor and a red-headed girl.

Sailor: "Your eyes are the most beautiful in the world. I can see dew in them!"
Redhead: "Hold on there, lover boy. That isn't dew; that's DONT!"

"Sorry, mister," the hill-billy told a tourist, "but we don't get milk any more since our dog died."

"No milk because your dog died?" repeated the tourist incredulously.

"Yep," explained the hill-billy. "Now that that pore dog is dead, they ain't nothin' to bring in the cows no more."

3 New Drugs Fight Disease

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Development of three new drugs, destined to benefit mankind in three different ways, comprises this month's report on medical advances.

Streptovaricin, a new antimicrobial agent, gives promise of being of value in the treatment of tuberculosis. The drug is derived from a fungus, Streptomyces sp. found in the soil near Dallas, Texas.

Doctors who have studied the drug report it is active against a wide variety of bacteria and is "particularly striking" when used against the tuberculosis germ.

Experiments with mice indicate it is especially effective for treating tuberculosis when used in conjunction with the drug isoniazid. Although only half as active as isoniazid when used alone, it is, nevertheless, about ten times as active as streptomycin and about 100 times as active as paraaminosalicylic acid.

Washington pathologists report that the mustard derivative ThioTEPA (eq) is one of the best all-around drugs yet found for treating certain cancers and leukemias.

Growth of tumors was noticeably impeded after application of ThioTEPA in more than 50 cancer cases that were studied.

'Brats' Good Food, Not Bad Kids in Sheyboygan

By MARTIN FRANCIS
Central Press Association
Correspondent

SHEYBOYGAN, Wis.—A "brat" to a parent or a schoolteacher means one thing, but to the good people here in Sheyboygan, a "brat" means the juiciest, most tasteful, satisfying pork and beef sandwich in the world, and they gorge themselves on it and lager beer in a big Bratwurst Day, held the first Saturday in August each year in the "Wurst Capital of the World," about 80 miles north of Milwaukee on Lake Michigan.

When a low-hanging smoky haze appears near the Sheyboygan lake shore, people know that the brat fryers are at it again, and they really do things up brown on Sheyboygan's main streets during Brat Day.

Street names are changed to Onion Oasis, Lager Alley, Bratwurst Boulevard, Mustard Place, Semmel Street, etc., and brat-frying stands spring up all over the downtown area.

Eight of the big stands are owned and operated by the Sheyboygan Jaycees, who use the profits to sponsor college scholarships for high school students, and to promote a youth program. The other 30 brat stands are operated by individuals on streets or in yards.

Families even roast brats over charcoal fires in parks, and if you want brats in style go to a restaurant where, for 75 cents, you can get them along with German potato salad, a chef's salad, coffee or milk.

A SINGLE BRAT sandwich, containing one sausage, costs 30 cents; a double costs 35 cents. In the annual brat eating contest, the same man, Roger Theobald, 25, won the affair four years in a row.

Last year Roger masticated eight double sandwiches and downed four giant lagers, all in a mere 25 minutes.

A. Matt Werner, editor of the "Sheyboygan Press," is the man who created Bratwurst Day and he gets enthusiastic support from the German-descended citizenry, the nine large sausage factories and other organizations. Sheyboygan track owners carry large signs advertising Bratwurst Day to many parts of the nation.

The Sheyboygan Jaycees have directed Bratwurst Day the last few years and it was estimated that more than 60,000 persons attended last year. Film actor Charles Colburn was a special guest several years ago.

Bratwurst day begins with a big parade, with the governor of the state finally crowning the Bratwurst queen. Then there are square dances with German bands playing, pony rides for children, the brat-eating contest, picnicking and visiting. All day long people eat the delicious brats, and outdoor cooks, usually men, vie with each other in parks in preparing them.

Brats must fry slowly over a charcoal fire, and the good cooks stand ready instantly to swish a fire with water on a whiskbroom to keep the temperature of the fire just right for perfect roasting.

Some cooks even like to soak the roasted brats in lager or bock beer for a minute or more before serving. Frequently, too, a half inch slice of raw onion, plus five or six slices of spiced pickles, go into single and double brats.

Last year the Jaycees stands in Sheyboygan used over 8,000 pounds of bratwurst, along with 140 gallons of pickles, 500 gallons of onions, six gallons of catsup, 28 gallons of mustard and 28,400 rolls.

MRS. RICHARD D. SHEEHAN

U.S. Naval Academy Scene Of Wedding Ceremony

Miss Birkhead, Lt. Sheehan, Marry

The United States Naval Academy Chapel, Annapolis, Md., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Masel Birkhead and Lt. Richard D. Sheehan, MC, USNR, which took place last Saturday at 2 p. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Brown, Pearl St., and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Earl Sheehan, Alliance.

The altar was banked with flowers and candelabra were used as decorations for the double ring ceremony performed by Chaplain Robert Lyons Trett.

Music was provided by Mrs. Frances Collinson, vocalist and Professor Donald Gilley, organist. The songs were: "Through the Years", "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Julian White, Annapolis. Her dress was a floor length, white gown of nylon tulle with a portrait neckline and a voluminous skirt of lace trimmed tiers. She wore matching muffs. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a Juliet type headpiece of lace, trimmed in pearls and sequins. Her bouquet was of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Dale Ward, Annapolis, was her maid of honor in a ballerina length dress of chiffon. The blue taffeta trim matched the blue flowers of her gown. Her headpiece was of matching blue and her bouquet of blue carnations.

The other attendants were Miss Doris Chapman and Mrs. James T. Coughlin, both of Annapolis. They wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor except with pink flowers instead of blue. Their headpieces were pink and their bouquets of matching pink carnations.

Best man was Lt. (jg) Robert Sheehan, Norfolk, Va., brother of the bridegroom.

Ushers were Lt. James Dinsmore and Lt. Dominic Verme.

A reception which followed the ceremony was held in the Severn Room of the Carvel Hall Hotel.

For their wedding trip to Atlantic City, N. J., and Ohio, the bride was attired in a rose shantung dress with white accessories. She wore the orchid from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Stoutsville High School and a member of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. She is employed by the Nationwide Insurance Co. in Annapolis where she is secretary to Mr. Julian White, regional claims manager.

Lt. Sheehan is a graduate of Alliance High School. He has a BS degree from Mt. Union College, and a medical degree from Northwestern University. He is a member of Sigma Nu and Phi Beta Pi fraternities. He is presently serving in U. S. Navy and is stationed at the Naval Hospital in Annapolis.

When you use meat as the base for a soup stock, be sure to simmer it a long time so that you extract full flavor and richness from the bones and the meat. The seasoned clear stock will make an excellent jelly soup for hot-weather use if you thicken it with unflavored gelatin.

If you want your summer salads to have high nutritive value plus protein content, make them from fish, meat, eggs, cheese.

Candles Beautiful At Twilight

CANDLES — Three big candles encased in glass hurricane globes, add height and radiance to a tray of avocados and bright tropical fruit.

"By candlelight" is a phrase with a romantic sound—and rightly so. Nothing like candles to give a dining area atmosphere, so use them when you're setting a table for a twilight buffet.

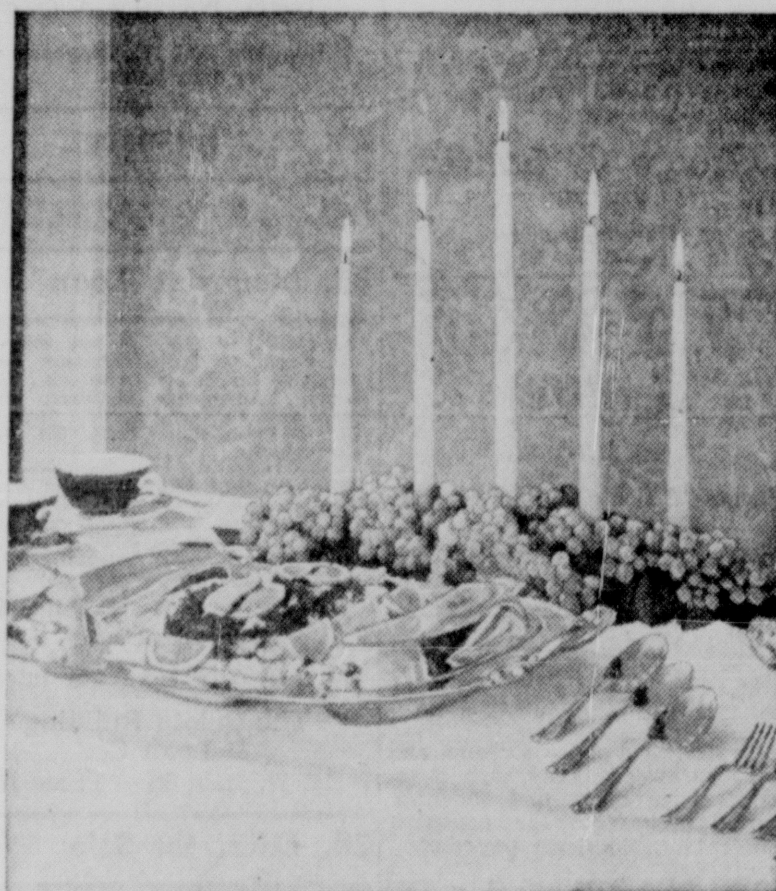

Candle designs are numerous and varied.

Simple tapers, 10 to 18 inches in length, come in a host of decorator colors. Spiral candles go well with pottery and casual dishes and cloths. Massive cylinders, 3 inches in diameter and 6 to 12 inches in height, seem right with the low open lines of modern furnishings.

For outdoors, consider cylindrical candles encased in glass hurricane shields. You can even use the food-warmer candle — just a bit over an inch high—decoratively as an outside light if you burn it in a colored glass tumbler.

Don't use candles solo. For the most striking effects, group them with your centerpiece. Use formal candleholders or make your own.

For example, a sheet of plastic foam can be cut to size to fit a low container—make it just a trifle larger than the opening. Wedge it tightly into the container. Mark spots for candle placements and cut out small holes for candles with a knife. Wedge candles in.

CENTERPIECE — An arch of slim foliage green tapers rises from a centerpiece of pale green grapes, accented by dark shiny magnolia leaves.

Localites See Much of West

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Van Buskirk and Gary of Route 3, Dunkle Road, and Mrs. Vern Shellhammer and daughter Sandy, Springhollow Road, have returned from a trip to the West Coast.

They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Burton, Santa Ana, Calif. The Burtons are former residents of Circleville.

Places of interest enjoyed included: the Painted Desert, Boulder Dam, Las Vegas, Balboa

Beach, Tijuana, Mex., Disney Land, Knotts Berry Farm, Mission at Capistrano, China Town, Golden Gate Bridge, Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco; Reno, Salt Lake City and Boys Town, Neb.

Pennsylvania Dutch favorite: Noodles cooked with saffron. Use one-quarter teaspoon of saffron to four cups (½ pound) medium-wide noodles; add the saffron just after the noodles are turned into the boiling salted water.

Just When Reds Look Gone, They Come Alive Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Just when some folks were about to scratch Cincinnati from the National League race, the Redlegs suddenly look robust again, complete with late-inning home runs for a three-game winning streak.

After slipping from first to fifth with a terrible July run (13-14), the Redlegs are on the way back, winning 'em late—but winning. Ted Kluszewski, Wally Post and Smokey Burgess were back in business Friday night for a 9-6 victory over the New York Giants. Klu belted a two-run homer for a first-inning lead, Burgess smacked a two-run shot to regain the edge in the eighth, and Post picked a three-run drive to win it in the ninth.

The victory put the fourth-place Redlegs within one game of Brooklyn, after Gene Conley four-hit the Dodgers and lined the run-scoring single in a 1-0 Milwaukee victory that kept the second-place Braves just two points shy of St. Louis. Brooklyn is 2 games behind.

The Cardinals won their seventh in a row, nailing fifth-place Philadelphia 5-4 in 10 innings as Stan Musial doubled home the clincher. The Man had three hits, all for extra bases.

Chicago's Cubs, without one earned run, defeated Pittsburgh 6-4 in the other NL game. It was the sixth straight loss for the seventh-place Pirates, leading to Manager Bobby Bragan's dismissal early today. Coach Danny Murtaugh took his place.

The American League race bordered on a "runaway" again as the New York Yankees, hitless for 6 1-3 innings against Don Mossi, pushed to a five-game spread with a 3-2 victory over Cleveland. The second-place Chicago White Sox lost their second in a row, this one 5-4 to Boston in 10.

Washington skipped out of the cellar with a 2-1 victory over Detroit while Baltimore plunked Kansas City to eighth with a twilight sweep, 5-4 in 13 innings and 10-2.

The Giants, losing six in a row, made a fight of it with home runs by Bobby Thomson and Willie May and a tying run in the top of the ninth on Danny O'Connell's single. Hersh Freeman won it.

Musial's second double sent Don Blasingame home from first base, digging past third when left fielder Harry Anderson slipped fielding the drive on the run. Willard Schmidt, with a two-hit relief job over four frames, won his 10th in a row for a 10-1 record. Wally Moon pushed his hit streak to 19 games with two doubles.

Conley gave up only singles, three to Carl Furillo. He walked five, but fanned Duke Snider, Gil Hodges and Rube Walker in clutch spots. Johnny Podres lost it for a 9-4 record when the Braves scored an unearned run in the fifth.

Mossi had faced only 19 men when Gil McDougald and Mickey for a 2-2 tie in the seventh. It was Mantle's 29th. A walk and singles by Tony Kubek and pinch-hitter Harry Simpson won it in the eighth.

A bases-loaded single by Jackie Jensen won for the Red Sox, who blew an early lead set up by Ted Williams' three-run homer, his 30th to match Henry Aaron of the Braves for the major league lead. The Senators, in eighth since April 26, made it on Julio Becquer's RBI single in the ninth to beat Paul Foytack. Camilo Pascual won it after Roy Sievers tied it 1-1 with his 29th home run, matching the club mark he set last season.

Boyd Seeks Shot At Giardello

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Boyd let it be known today after defeating Willie Vaughn for his fifth straight victory that he wants Joey Giardello and nobody else for his next fight.

It was Giardello who shattered the Chicago boy's string at nine wins last September. Boyd went into the fight with Giardello as the second ranked 160 pounder and came out with a fractured jaw and ninth place in ranking.

"All I want is another shot at Giardello," said the 23-year-old Boyd after turning in his second straight split decision over Vaughn at St. Nick's Friday night.

Ashville Unit Defeated by GE Team, 16-2

GE's Babe Ruth leaguers trounced Ashville 16-2 last night at Ted Lewis Park.

Winning pitcher Bob Caudill allowed only three hits, fanned five and walked five. The GE swatters collected 13 bingles off Ashville's Wilcox.

First baseman Harry Strawser led GE's hitting attack, getting three safeties in four times at bat, including a triple. Caudill contributed a double and Huffer and Phifer each collected two hits.

Brown of Ashville got two of his team's three hits.

GE SCORED in every inning, doing the most damage in the second frame when they chased home seven runs.

The line score:

Ashville..... 000 02 — 2 3 4
GE..... 371 5X — 16 13 2
Wilcox and Clements
Caudill and Woods and Bailey.

All-Stars Reduce Number of Drills

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—The College All-Stars have decided to cut down on drills for Friday night's battle against the New York Giants at Soldier Field.

Coach Curly Lambeau Friday announced afternoon workouts will be eliminated and the All-

U.S. Needs Single Win in Net Series

BOSTON (AP)—The United States Davis Cup team needs only a victory in the doubles match with Brazil today to clinch the American zone finals.

But non-playing Captain Billy Talbot needs some assurance that Sammy Giammalva, of Houston, didn't suffer any ill-effect from his off-beat performance with Armando Vieira Friday.

Giammalva had to go the limit before he finally subdued the stubborn Brazilian 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4. The old tennis trooper Vic Seixas, of Philadelphia, had an easier time in sweeping 19-year-old Carlos Armandes.

Stars will hold only morning workouts until the big game.

Hot weather and a rash of minor injuries were factors in Lambeau's decision.

The All-Stars will concentrate on smoothing out the tackling and blocking and sharpening up their offensive maneuvers.

Latin Golfer Takes Lead In Rich Tam

CHICAGO (AP)—Roberto De Vicenzo was the man to catch today as he sought to become the first foreign winner of the All American golf tournament since Bobby Locke's invasion 10 years ago.

De Vicenzo, a strapping 220-pound South American pro who works out of Mexico City, had a two-stroke lead entering the third round of the $25,000 All American after wrecking Tam O'Shanter's par Friday with a 64.

This sparkling performance that missed a course record by only one stroke gave the 34-year-old power-hitter an 11-under-par 133 for 36 holes.

But De Vicenzo could not breathe too easily. Two younger pros were hot on his trail. Bill Casper of Bonita, Calif., 26, fourth leading money winner of the season, carved a 68 for 135 and 28-year-old Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., medalist in the All American qualifying round, fashioned a 67 for 136.

Porky Oliver, the first round pacesetter, went from a 66 to a 76 and a 142 total.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, shares a five-way tie for 13th place. He has fired a 70-71-141.

Hollywood Reporter Claims Movie 'Wyat Earp' Is Piker

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ah, there's nothing like a busman's holiday—reading show biz tomes beside Balboa Bay.

Most adventurous of my literary excursions was "Wyatt Earp, Frontier Marshal" by Stuart Lake. I wanted to see how much Hugh O'Brian and Burt Lancaster act like the famed marshal. Conclusion: Messrs. O'Brian and Lancaster are pikers compared to the real Earp.

What a gunfighter the guy was, judging from his recollections! And what iron in his final wish!

Shortly before he died, Earp told Lake: "the greatest consolation that I have in growing old is the hope that after I'm gone they'll grant me the peaceful obscurity I haven't been able to get in life."

Now they won't let the poor guy stay dead. And some rat even stole his tombstone! There ain't no justice, Wyatt.

Browsed through Bosley Crowther's fine reporting job of the rise and fall of MGM. "The Lion's Share." Crowther covers all these base in good style, but he may be forced to add another chapter to cover the latest maneuverings in the studio's history.

There's no surer way to damage a studio than to have warfare waged in the New York office. The golden age of Hollywood came when the film creators had a free hand to do their work with imagination and daring. Trouble comes when the money men, with no knowledge of film making, interfere. Note the sad story of RKO, purchased by a tire firm and now idle.

"Charlie," Ben Hecht's affectionate bouquet to his writing partner, Charles MacArthur, proved highly readable. Hecht can still rattle out a story, letting the sies land where they may.

But of course, he had a great subject to work with.

Top Hat Unit Bumps Pennys In District

Top Hat posted a 9-0 shutout over Penny's in district softball play at Greenfield last night.

Butch Manion was on mound for the Hatters, allowed only one hit, a Texas league single.

The local nine scored its nine runs on nine hits, including a homerun by Bob Moon and doubles by Snap Ankrom and Carl Gullick.

Top Hat plays again tomorrow when they meet Portsmouth Auto Parts at 8:45 p. m. The Portsmouth squad posted a 1-0 win over River Oils of Chillicothe last night.

8th Inning Blasts Bury Indians 3-2

NEW YORK (AP)—Two home runs and a Kansas City outfielder turned Yankee proved the margin of victory Friday night as New York defeated Cleveland 3-2.

For six innings the Yankees were powerless against the pitching of Don Mossi. The 27-year-old lefthander drew a minimum of 19 batters before Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle hit successive home runs to tie the ball game.

Until that time, only Yogi Berra had reached first base for New York via a fifth-inning walk, and was erased when the next batter, Elston Howard, bounced into a double play.

With the score tied 2-2, Mossi lost all control in the eighth and walked Gerry Coleman on four straight pitches. Tony Kubek looped a single to centerfield and Cal McLish was called in to pitch for Cleveland.

Harry (Suitcase) Simpson, who joined the Yankees recently in the trade that sent Billy Martin to Kansas City, was sent in as a pinchhitter for pitcher Tom Sturdivant.

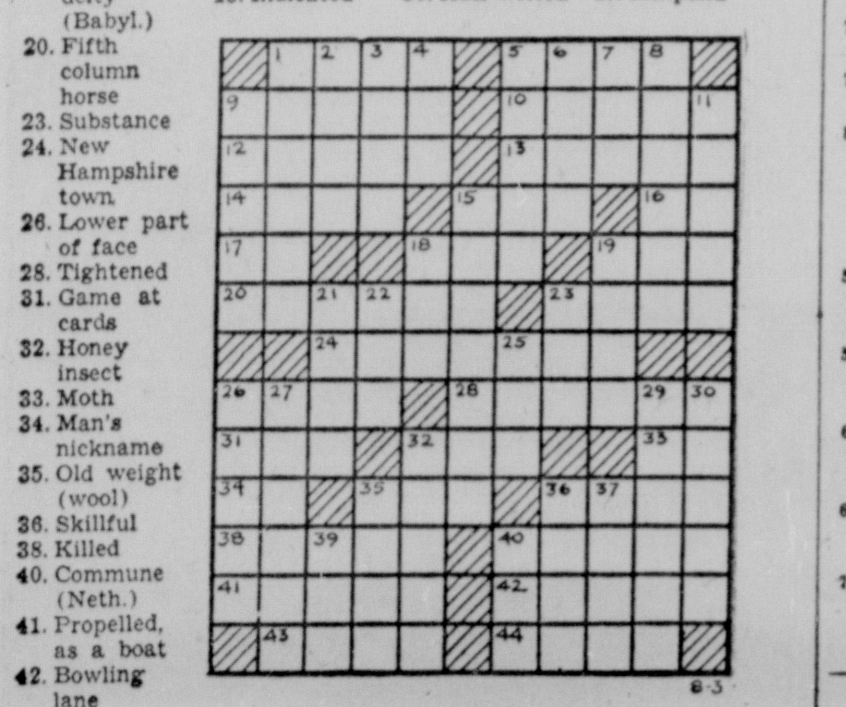

Simpson punched a single into left field and Kubek raced home with the winning run.

The Indians out-hit the Yankees 7 to 4 and had men in scoring position with only one out in both the third and sixth innings, but could tally only twice.

A decade ago, windmills in the Midwest were as numerous as checkers on a board in the old country store. Today you must go many miles to see one.

Day of Windmill Ends in America

By GROVER BRINKMAN
Central Press Association
Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — In the western cattle states, where ranges and horizons seem illimitable, the windmill has its last frontier. Its conical tower and spinning, metal finned wheel still mark the water well, where thirsty cattle constantly hover during the summer heat.

However, in the Midwest, the South and the East, the windmill, like the horse and mule, is fast on the way out. An era has come and gone. The Rural Electrification administration, running its energized power lines to farms big and small, no matter how isolated, has written finis to the old windmill.

What of it? Nothing epical, to be sure. But the windmill gave a farm homestead a nice, homey atmosphere, like a Currier and Ives print. It was part of rural America, as typical as fried chicken, hominy and cornbread.

Grandfather remembers when every farm had at least one windmill. Most of them had two. For nearly a century they dotted the landscape like checkers on a board. Not as picturesque as its European cousin in Holland and Austria, but a very efficient piece of American mechanics that harnessed the friendly breeze and made it work for man.

Today, however, with Midwest farms more than 90 per cent energized by REA lines, the electric pump has eliminated the windmill, just as the tractor erased the horse and mule.

Now, if you do see a windmill tower on a Midwest farm, no doubt it has been left standing merely to serve as a television mast. They come in right handy for that purpose.

AN ILLINOIS farm supply house, which had sold and serviced windmills for over a century in the prairie state, said that in the past year they had sold a single new unit, and had had but a very few service calls to patch up existing mechanisms.

Most of the windmills still operating in this area are more than 30 years old. Some are just standing as landmarks. When the farmer modernizes his barn, down they come.

However, in the more westerly states, particularly in Kansas, Montana and Texas, the windmill still is being used. Many of the range wells are miles from the nearest electric power line, so the windmill, or a gasoline engine, is the only alternative to bring water to the herds that graze the range.

It took an eight-mile-an-hour breeze to operate the old windmill. Some of the windvanes were 10 feet long, and they zipped along right merrily when the prairie breezes fanned them.

Connected to a pump, they did an efficient job of filling the water troughs for the cattle, and the water tanks that in turn were piped to farm dwellings for bath and drinking purposes.

However, when the wind rose to a gale, oftentimes the windmill tore up its mechanism, and sometimes even the windvanes came tumbling down. Finally, someone invented a device that turned the vanes away from the wind as the velocity of the game increased, to avoid damage. Float devices also were later installed, to start and stop the windmills as needed, so the tanks would not run over, or go bone dry.

There were some other disadvantages, too. Many times, during the hot, dry days of midsummer, when there was not a breath of air stirring, the windmills were motionless for days at a time. Then the farmer had to resort to hand-pumping his well.

ALTHOUGH THE windmill never became popular in America until the second half of the Nineteenth Century, in Europe they were in use six centuries before. The European windmill was much more elaborate and complicated than our domestic models.

The windmills had from four to six radial, canvas-covered vanes, some of them as long as 30 feet. In fact, the windmill was an integral part of a building, built specially for that purpose. In Holland, the picturesque windmill has long been a favorite subject for camera fans.

Expert Scores Reducing Pills

Congress Told Many Are Menace to Health

WASHINGTON — An expert told Congress Friday that many advertised weight-reducing preparations are inefficient, useless and a waste of time, while others represent a real menace to public health.

Dr. S. William Kalb said a medically prescribed diet is still the only sure way to reduce, with drugs serving only as a crutch to assist individuals in cutting down on eating.

Dr. Kalb, an authority on obesity, testified before a House Government Operations subcommittee investigating government regulation of advertised claims for weight reducing preparations.

Dr. Kalb told the subcommittee that many of the drugs are harmless, but to individuals with particular sensitivity or a form of illness they could be harmful or even fatal.

"The important thing is that all these drugs, for weight reduction or any other purpose, should be sold on prescription only," he said.

Dr. Kalb drew a burst of laughter from the committee when he popped a tablet from a committee exhibit bottle into his mouth, and observed:

"Tastes very good. Harmless, you could give it to nursing mothers."

"Join me," he invited the committee, extending the bottle of a well known preparation.

Committee members complied, and munched judiciously.

"What is it?" inquired Blatnik. "Skimmed milk, with a little lemon juice added," Dr. Kalb replied.

"It won't kill your appetite," he assured members, "some people eat a bottle of these a day between meals."

Committee counsel said the bottle retail at $3-a figure Dr. Kalb estimated afforded a profit of about 400,000 per cent. "You could figure it out with a slide rule," he said.

3 Boys, Matches Blamed in Fire

PORTSMOUTH — Three boys who played with matches have been blamed by arson investigators for a fire that caused an estimated $1,000 damage to a child's home.

Eighty children and 10 supervisors were chased outdoors for two hours while firemen fought a blaze confined to a basement storage room at the Hillcrest Children's Home at nearby Wheelersburg a week ago Friday night.

Investigators said Friday the boys told of striking matches in the basement room and accidentally set fire to some burlap bags.

Oakwood Cafe Manager Loses $500 to Thugs

They escaped in Zonars' car, parked nearby. The car later was found abandoned.

11 Daytonians Plead Innocent in Dope Case

Leading Children's Director Once a Child-Actor Himself

HOLLYWOOD — One of the best directors of children in the business today is a onetime child star—Sidney Miller.

Sidney, now directing for Walt Disney on both movies and TV (he directs the Mousketeers), appeared in better than 300 movies, from the first talkies onward.

Before that, he had worked on the Children's Hour, a famous radio program, in New York City. "My mother and I used take the train every Sunday from our home town of Shenandoah, Pa., to New York. One day a Warner's talent scout said Hollywood was looking for young boys for "Penrod and Sam."

"So mother and I came out on the train to Hollywood. I carried my guitar all the way. We arrived here and I went to the casting office myself. I can remember the casting director asking me what my name was.

"Instead of answering, I whipped out the guitar and started singing. For some strange reason, she said she had a part for me. It was as a Catholic altar boy in a religious procession scene.

"I carried the crucifix at the head of the procession and kept thinking how I had just had my Bar Mitzvah a few weeks previously."

He got the part in "Penrod and Sam" too, and from there went into many notable pictures, such as the "Mickey McGuire" series with Mickey Rooney and later "Boy's Town" with Rooney.

Sidney also recalls another series he played in for Educational Pictures, a studio no longer in existence.

"The stars were Junior Coughlin and me. Then they added a cute three-year-old girl as Junior's kid sister. She was really cute and I can remember the director and the producer arguing."

"The director wanted to put the kid under contract at $50 a week. The producer couldn't see it. He said: 'Another year and the kid will grow out of that cuteness.'"

Before she had grown out of it some ten years later, she had made herself and the old Fox Studio millions of dollars. The cute little kid, of course, was Shirley Temple.

Gypsy pilgrims celebrate an ancient tradition making their annual pilgrimage to Saintes-Maries-de-la-Mer. Accompanying them into the shallow sea waters are guardians on horseback.

European Gypsies Make Pilgrimage Annually To Keep Alive Ancient Religious Tradition

By JOSEPH WHITT
Central Press Association
Correspondent

SAINTES-MARIES-DE-LA-MER, France—Thousands of gypsies from all over Europe crowd the narrow streets and surrounding countryside of this French village perched on the shore of the Mediterranean sea.

Floral garlands and carafans of all shapes and colors, as well as old and new automobiles, cover the earth until the far edge of the beach.

Everywhere among the campfires and the laundry drying on improvised lines one sees black-haired, swarthy-faced men and women, numerous children and brightly-colored dresses.

There are shooting galleries and merry-go-rounds doing a brisk business. In the warm sunshine vendors stroll about selling food, drinks, sweets, souvenirs and religious trinkets.

This is the Saintes-Maries-de-la-Mer pilgrimage, which annually draws over 50,000 people—20,000 of them gypsies—to commemorate a Biblical legend.

According to this legend, two pious women, Marie-Jacobee and Marie-Salome, and their Egyptian servant Sara, fled persecution in Galilee in a tiny boat. Miraculously this boat found it way to the shore of this village and thus saved the women who eventually did much good for the people.

SINCE THAT TIME, which some set as early as 100 A.D., the village, named after the two Marys, has been a venerated place.

Statues of these three women, kept in a crypt of the ancient fortified village church, play the chief role in the ceremonies, which take the form of processions to the sea.

Decked in white robes, medals, flowers, belts and photographs, the statues are borne in small boats, one containing the two Marys and the other, Sara.

As striking as the statues are the people in the procession: gypsies from all lands, shepherds, clergymen, local folk in regional costumes, guardians (French cowboys) on horseback with their sweethearts behind them, and guardians on foot carrying the boats on their shoulders.

The procession passes through the village and stops at the sea. There the guardians hearing the boats enter the water, and the huge crowds, standing on the shore and in the sea, break out with wild applause.

When the boat seems to be floating on the waves, everyone hastens to touch it, thus hoping to gain good fortune for the coming year. Then the crowds and the statues return to the village.

After this, the pilgrimage turns into a combination family gathering and a festival. Sitting around their homes-on-wheels, the gypsies gossip, eat, drink and dance. Enough different accents and languages are heard to awaken visions of Babel.

During these days the gypsies elect their annual "queen," whose duties include learning the tribal secrets from the "guardian de la loi," or keeper of the law. If the king, who is chosen for life, is dead, they select a new one at the same occasion.

NOT ALL IS tribal business. During the day the gypsies watch "ferrades," a French version of rodeos and bullfights, complete with bucking broncos and angry bulls; during the night they dance under the stars to the staccato music of their guitars.

When the pilgrimage ends, bands of gypsies leave the village, rolling away in their wagons and automobiles to wander over the face of Europe.

Next year, as for almost 1,900 years, they will come again to Saintes-Maries-de-la-Mer to celebrate the most extraordinary pilgrimage in the world.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Werner W. Stuck who used as his theme, "Vacationing with God". Special music for the occasion was furnished by a combined church choir under the direction of Mrs. Donald Flieri, which sang "God, My King"; and by Merritt Lindig of the St. Matthew's Church who sang "Bless This House".

Accompanists were Mrs. W. W. Stuck, pianist, and David Stuck, organist.

Following the service a basket dinner was held and the afternoon was spent in visiting.
